Manali is a high-altitude Himalayan resort town in India's northern Himachal Pradesh state. It has a reputation as a backpacking center and honeymoon destination. Set on the Beas River, it's a gateway for skiing in the Solang Valley and trekking in Parvati Valley. It's also a jumping-off point for paragliding, rafting and mountaineering in the Pir Panjal mountains, home to 4,000m-high Rohtang Pass.

Day 1 - Arrival in Manali

Manali offers super views of the Dhauladhar and Pir Panjal ranges, and with mountain adventures beckoning from all directions, Manali is a year-round magnet for tourists. Apart from temples, Manali is popular among adventure tourists coming for trekking, paragliding, rafting and skiing. An adventurous couple can get their fair share of adrenaline and thrill along with some romance set against an idyllic backdrop. Check-in at the hotel and spend your evening at leisure. Have a romantic dinner and stay overnight in Manali.

Day 2 - Full Day Excursion Rohtang Pass

Start with a full day excursion to Rohtang Pass. Manali is the gateway to Rohtang pass beyond which lies the twin valley of Lahaul and Spiti. In winter the mountain slopes are snow clad and turn into perfect skiing slopes. The Rohtang pass is 51 KM north of Manali and is located on the Manali Keylong Highway at an altitude of 4111 meters (13,400 ft). The pass is open from June to October each year although trekkers can cross it earlier. It is a gateway to Lahaul Spiti, Pangi and Leh valley.
